THIS IS YOUR STORY.

The people of Denver recognized that by tapping into our creative power and ingenuity, we can realize healthier communities, and a city truly committed to the wellbeing of every resident. In response, Denver founded Caring for Denver to create a new and groundbreaking approach to meeting the City's mental health and substance misuse needs.

Our 2021 annual report highlights the achievements and triumphs possible through community activation.

After just two years of operation, Caring for Denver has deployed more than $59 million in grants to 163 organizations committed improving mental health and substance misuse in our city.

Through this commitment of resources, the people of Denver gave individuals in crisis connections to trauma-informed care, peers with lived experience, case management, more access to mental health services, and linkages to community recovery resources.

The people of Denver gave support to unhoused individuals—and those at risk of becoming unhoused—struggling with mental health and substance misuse needs during a global pandemic.

The people of Denver opened the door to community-informed care that aligns with cultural values and traditions.

The stories told in this annual report confirm that the people of Denver had it right. Creating a unique, dedicated resource committed to transformational care is yielding powerful change in our communities.

The first wave of reporting for grantees who have completed at least 12 months of their work is already demonstrating important progress. Of grant participants assessed for impacts:

- 70% demonstrated or reported reduced substance misuse
- 83% reported improved or maintained mental health
- 86% did not re-enter the criminal justice system

And we're just getting started.

The optimism of our board, our staff, grantees, key stakeholders, and city leaders is inspiring. In the face of challenging times, a path to healthier communities in Denver is clearly emerging.

We thank you—the people of Denver—for your wisdom and trust. We will match your commitment, seek your guidance, and honor our partnership as we move forward together.

In Gratitude,

Addresses Denver's
mental health & substance misuse needs

Since its inception, Caring for Denver Foundation has approved 238 grants to 163 unique organizations totaling more than $59.6 million.

Values

RESPECT. ALWAYS.

We fiercely embrace inclusion and diversity, and strive to be representative, culturally responsive, and linguistically appropriate in all that we do.

BE COURAGEOUS IN ACTION.

We champion candid, open-minded reflection and are thoughtful and bold in the action we take.

MEET PEOPLE WHERE THEY ARE.

We see and support all people and communities for their strengths and inherent value.

FOCUS ON IMPACT FOR COMMUNITIES.

We center all of our work on outcomes that always put Denverites, and their potential, first.

ADVOCATE OUT LOUD.

We courageously share our stories, engage our communities, and demonstrate how mental health and substance misuse affects us all.

INVITE PARTNERSHIP.

We are partners with the grantees, communities, and individuals with whom we collaborate and serve, recognizing all are essential to identifying, defining, and deciding what they need.

Purpose

Caring for Denver was created by City ordinance to fund the following purposes:

- Mental health services and treatment for children and adults
- Opioid and substance misuse prevention, treatment, and recovery programs
- Housing and case management services to reduce homelessness, improve long-term recovery, and reduce the costly use of jails and emergency rooms for those with mental health and substance misuse needs
- Suicide prevention programs
- Co-responder and alternative response program funding, and training on how to properly assess and handle people with mental health and/or substance misuse needs

These purposes are addressed through four community-identified, Board-approved funding priorities: Alternatives to Jail, Care Provision, Community-Centered Solutions, and Youth.

2021 SNAPSHOT

$59.6 Million

grants since our founding in 2019

$35.5+ MILLION

Approved grants in 2021, including 143 grants to 131 unique organizations

$8,603,592

Alternatives to Jail Care
Care for individuals who might otherwise be entering or re-entering the criminal justice system

$9,790,073

Care Provision
Access to care that reflects, represents, and values unique cultures and needs

$4,267,056

Community-Centered Solutions
Community-based care that prioritizes cultural relevance, and community collaboration

$10,818,452

Youth
Care for Denver's youth, to reduce crisis and increase resilience for coping with life stressors

$2,035,827

Responsive/Innovative
Building capacity and responding to emerging needs in our communities.

This funding has allowed us to support many hearts and souls in such an essential time, which in turn, creates hope, and with hope, we can see the future.

Factors for Grant Selection

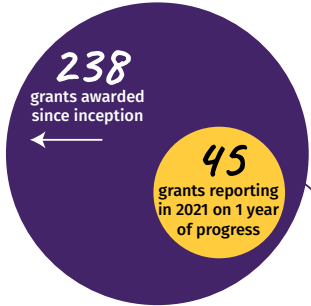

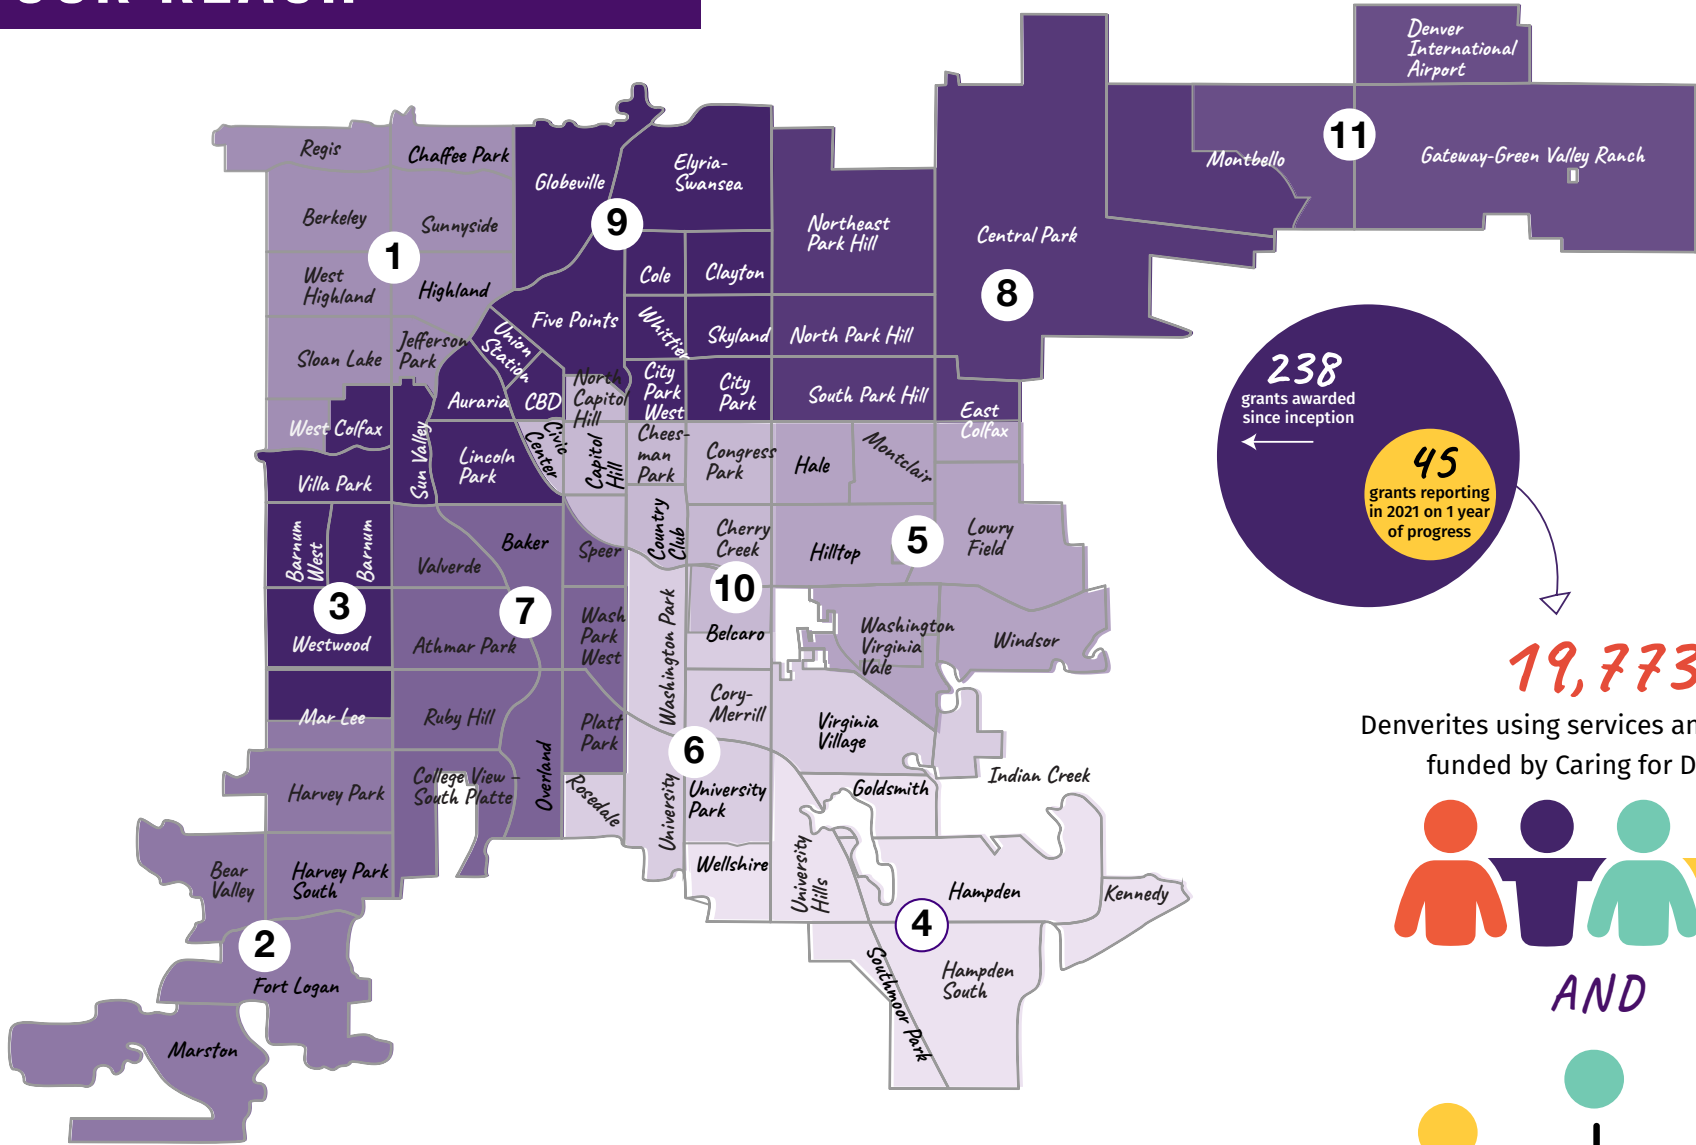

Caring for Denver prioritizes programs and/or services that:

- Align with Caring for Denver's mission and founding Ordinance
- Provide increased access to and use of supports that improve mental health and substance misuse challenges
- Engage the people being served as partners in the work
- Reach communities who have been impacted by trauma and inequitable access to resources and supports
- Are meaningful to the community, where they are, and in the forms that work for them
- Engage more individuals in ongoing support that stays aligned with their needs, even as needs change
- Are driven by entities that are the 'right' fit given the community context, shown through partnerships, credibility, and trust

Since 2019, we've funded organizations that serve every City Council District and neighborhood in Denver. Additionally, we funded organizations that specifically serve areas of higher need (as indicated by darker purple).

ISSUE SPOTLIGHT: HOMELESSNESS

It is critical to acknowledge and address the complex needs of people experiencing homelessness, or on the verge of it, so they can recover and thrive.

Chronic homelessness is an important issue for our City and State. We are addressing homelessness in three distinct ways:

Funding organizations and ideas that promote stability and prevent homelessness. Several grantees assist men and women coming out of incarceration, serve foster youth, or provide culturally affirming care for historically marginalized populations – all of whom are at higher risk of becoming unhoused.

Bringing mental health and substance misuse care to people experiencing homelessness. We support organizations providing care and connection to services at transitional housing settings like day shelters and Safe Outdoor Spaces, and through mobile vehicles. We also invest in critical self-care and hazard pay for staff providing services to the unhoused.

Making recovery and stability more likely. We fund case management services to help unhoused individuals connect to care. We prioritize and invest in peer support programs, a proven strategy to improve outcomes by providing care navigation from people who have lived through similar experiences.

The stability of our unhoused neighbors also relies on other equally important factors – the right housing, financial security, physical health and other social supports, and employment. Caring for Denver collaborates with several prominent organizations on the front lines of addressing these needs, including:

- Department of Housing Stability (HOST) – the lead Denver city agency addressing homelessness through housing and crisis services
- Denver Homeless Leadership Council – executives of some of the metro area’s largest homeless service providers
- Metro Denver Homelessness Initiative – a regional coalition of nonprofit organizations, governments and other stakeholders

A list of Caring for Denver grantees that includes those who provide services to reduce homelessness is included at the end of this report. Learn more: <https://bit.ly/C4Dresponsive>.

2021 STRATEGIC PLAN PROGRESS

In 2021, we continued building a trusted, effective, and sustainable organization in alignment with the goals in our strategic plan. This section highlights some of the ways we advanced our organizational priorities in 2021.

COMMUNITY AUTHORED AND DRIVEN

- We engaged more than 90 individuals, those in the work and those with lived experience, as community thought partners.
- Staff participated in more than 180 events and conversations in the community to share information, lead or support collaborations, and build knowledge.

ESTABLISH ORGANIZATIONAL INTEGRITY & STEWARDSHIP

- We developed and implemented financial, organizational, and grant policies and practices that promote consistency and reliability, establish trust and credibility, and demonstrate organizational accountability.
- An independent certified public accounting firm conducted an audit of our 2020 and 2021 financial statements and internal controls; there were no material recommendations.

PROMOTE EQUITY

- We implemented three capacity building projects supporting grantees with limited resources in building their capabilities to be high-performing, sustainable organizations. These projects invested in building the resources and skills for 32 organizations to ensure their programmatic success and sustainability in their mental health and substance misuse work.

DEMONSTRATE MEANINGFUL ACTION & LEARNING

- We worked with all grantees receiving a grant in 2021 to develop project frameworks that define grant project strategies, intended changes, and measurement plans.
- We published two learning briefs that share grantee strategies, progress, and insights for impact with the Denver community (access them in the column to the right).
- 45 grantees completed the first year of their grants by December 2021; data from these grantees are included in this report (see page 12-page 19).

90%

of thought partners surveyed agreed that people impacted by our work played a meaningful role in what we do.

OUR APPROACH

In 2019 and 2020, we reviewed public data and engaged the Denver community to determine our funding priority areas. In 2021, we worked closely with grantees and community partners to understand the changes our community hopes to see across these funding priorities. Here's what we heard:

To address Denver's mental health and substance misuse challenges, we must see changes in Access, Fit, and Care Over Time.

INCLUSIVE ACCESS: People need access to care in ways that make sense for them, in places that feel comfortable, and at times that fit their schedules. Ideally this will be a diverse network of care options, situated within communities, that allow people multiple entry points and a variety of ways to address their needs.

ATTENTION TO FIT: When people seek care, they should feel understood, connected, and respected by those providing that care. Better cultural matches between those giving and receiving support can lead to higher quality interactions and engagement, and help reduce stigma around mental health and substance misuse.

CARE OVER TIME: Mental health and substance misuse are life-long journeys that often don't follow a single, linear path to wellness. People need to know and experience care options that are consistent, dependable, and flexible. These care options should also be more collaborative and care transitions more seamless to minimize the starts and stops to care that require people to re-tell, re-live, and/or re-document their journeys.

Caregivers also need support for maintaining their own mental health and the skills to engage in trauma-informed ways. Healthy providers who feel valued and supported are more likely to stay in their roles, provide quality care, and build trusted connections with those they serve.

With these three systems changes identified, we dug deeper into the community's feedback and Denver's Road to Wellness framework to define signals that would show whether the Foundation's work is on the right track. We created the Foundation's Shared Impact Plan (page 11) using this information and we are partnering with grantees to ensure they are measuring and reporting on the changes that matter to the community.

CHANGING THE CONVERSATION.

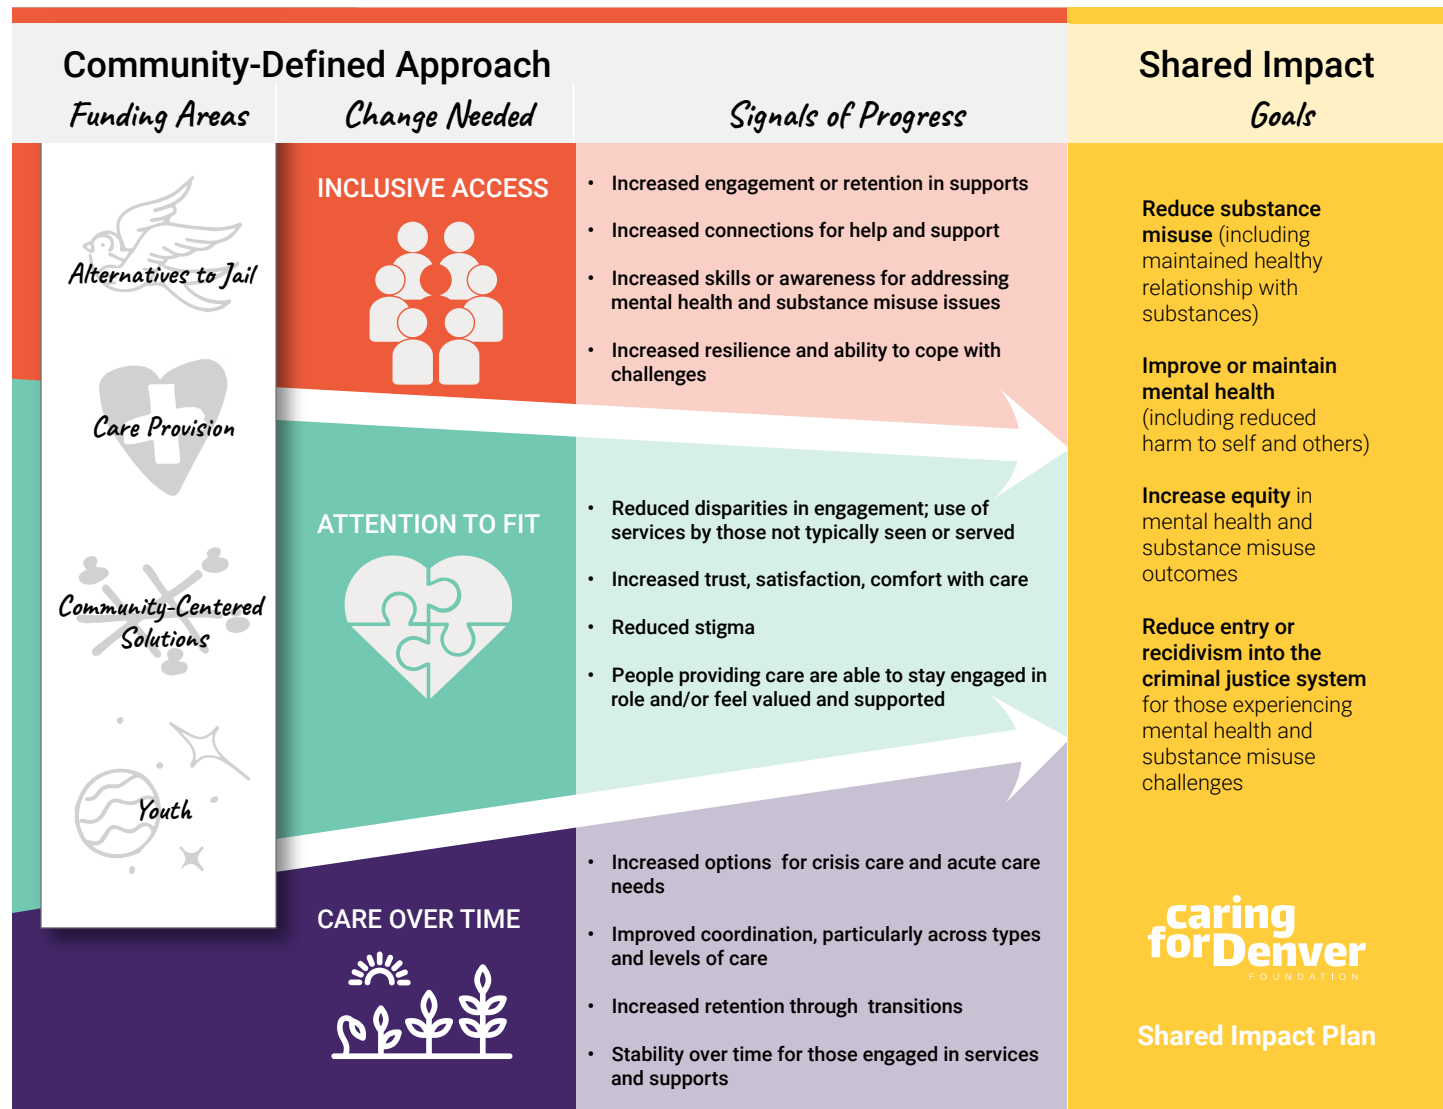

We used what we learned to build a Shared Impact Plan that guides our work together.

This Shared Impact Plan, designed with the community's voice, is the cornerstone of our evaluation and learning approach.

We work closely with grantees to lift up the Signals of Progress and/or impacts in their work and we support them in measuring these.

Through this process, we build trust, invest in community expertise, and commit to being good partners with those doing the work.

SHARED IMPACT PLAN

MEASURING WHAT MATTERS.

We support grantees in measuring what they feel is important based on the work they do.

We need to be comfortable with adapting an idea if it's not what people actually need or want.

- La Cocina

Our approach to data is different. We partner with grantees to determine what to measure, so their metrics can be tied more accurately to their intervention. It helps us understand what the community sees as success and allows grantees to focus on collecting data that is meaningful for them, rather than the Foundation determining what data matters most.

Each year, grantees provide updates on progress through two learning calls and an end of grant year report. This gives us the opportunity to celebrate wins and support grantees in adaptation when things aren't going as intended. With this approach the data helps grantees do their best.

By the end of 2021, 45 grantees reached the one year mark for their grant and completed their learning calls and reports. We're excited to share an overview of grantee Signals of Progress and reporting on Shared Impact Goals based on the Shared Impact Plan (on the previous page).

Key Data Takeaways

- 1 Our investments in grantees are improving Denverites' mental health and substance misuse. Those far enough along in their programs to measure progress on our Shared Impact Goals have shown between 70% and 99% of participants are meeting program targets.
- 2 Grantees see reducing isolation as a key strategy for addressing these challenges. 94% of participants across 14 organizations have increased and improved their connections to address mental health and substance misuse needs.
- 3 Early grantee efforts have mostly focused on increasing access and improving the fit of services. We are continuing to look for opportunities to invest in, and demonstrate progress on, care over time changes. These often require more time and collaboration as they focus on addressing larger systems-related challenges.

Inclusive access, attention to fit, and care over time can be addressed in multiple ways to meet diverse community needs. Learn how some of our grantees are approaching their work in our 2021 Learning Briefs:

WE'RE JUST GETTING STARTED.

We're helping grantees grow their capacity to report on impact.

Shared Impact Goals

All 45 grantees had rich data to report for Signals of Progress, and 21 were ready to report on our Shared Impact Goals.

Reduce substance misuse (including maintained healthy relationship with substances) of 687 participants demonstrated or reported reduced substance use or a maintained healthy relationship with substances that met criteria of the program.

Improve or maintain mental health (including reduced harm to self and others) of 113 participants reported improved or maintained positive mental health.

83%

Increase equity in mental health and substance misuse outcomes

Reduce entry or recidivism into the criminal justice system for those experiencing mental health and substance misuse challenges of 215 participants met program criteria for not entering the justice system, either because of no charges leading to incarceration during the grant period; or by completing a diversion program.

86%

of 891 participants did not return to the justice system.

SERVICIOS DE LA RAZA

Servicios provides culturally responsive behavioral health treatment and intervention services to Denverites before, during, and after criminal justice involvement. The program uses trauma-informed care, peer support, case management, and additional supports for employment, housing, and linkages to community recovery resources. For this grant, Servicios monitored recidivism rates at 90 days and 180 days for clients entering outpatient behavioral health treatment services. Of the 71 participants, 96% remained in community at 180 days.

We all have our own mini circles, communities, worlds...When your community is behind your choice it's more likely to stick.

- Community Member

Increased skills or awareness for addressing issues

76%

Client met treatment goals; participant increased resource awareness; provider increased knowledge/skills

Increased connections for help & support

94%

Participant increased connections for support or reported reduced isolation; client engaged with referrals or peer supports

Increased engagement or retention

69%

Client completed program; Client attended voluntary programs; Participant re-enrolled as a peer or alumni support

Increased resilience & ability to cope

76%

Client was observed or reported using skills learned; Participant utilized or completed recovery plan

COLORADO ARTISTS IN RECOVERY (CAIR)

 Read CAIR's story.

CAIR offers multi-week peer-led creativity workshops including art, music, and other creative activities for people seeking recovery. They encourage participants to find a classmate to reach out to and build connections for support during and after the workshops. Participants also share ongoing creative work and events on a private Facebook page, staying connected to a larger community of support. CAIR uses post-class surveys to assess connections.

of participants said they were able to reach out to someone in the workshop to build a supportive network.

95%

of participants reported the workshops helped them feel more confident reaching out to others for recovery support.

COLORADO VILLAGE COLLABORATIVE (CVC)

3x more peer specialist sessions happened with clients in the second half of the grant year compared to the first half.

72%
of participants who worked with a peer specialist on substance misuse needs entered a recovery or treatment program, enrolled in Medication Assisted Therapy (MAT), and/or reduced their substance intake.

CVC is a transformational housing community operated in partnership with people experiencing homelessness. They provide access to clinicians via tele-health services, peer supports and mentoring to improve outcomes, and group therapy that incorporates art, music, and more. Peer support is a proven strategy for fostering shared understanding, respect, and mutual empowerment to help residents in the recovery process.

PROGRESS & IMPACT: SIGNALS OF PROGRESS

CHANGE NEEDED: ATTENTION TO FIT

NUMBER OF ORGANIZATIONS REPORTING FOR EACH SIGNAL

We need locally and culturally responsive care so people are truly able to heal, whatever that means to them.

- Community Member

PERCENTAGE OF PARTICIPANTS ASSESSED WHO MET THEIR ORGANIZATION'S CRITERIA OF PROGRESS (WITH EXAMPLE CRITERIA)

Increased use of services by those not typically served

42%

First time engagements; Participants report cultural fit as why they participate; engagement by underserved populations

Increased trust, satisfaction, & comfort

85%

Reported sense of safety and/or connection to providers; Participant belief that facilitators/ providers care about them

Caregivers feel valued and supported

93%

Caregiver satisfied with role and resources; staff with lived experience stay in positions for defined time periods

Reduced stigma

83%

Increased conversation about mental health; reduced negative feelings or increased positive beliefs for seeking help

VIVE WELLNESS

ViVe offers culturally responsive workshops, groups, trainings, and coaching to support Latino mental health wellness. ViVe used survey responses to assess their impact on stigma, connectedness, trust, and other signals of progress.

82%

of participants agreed to the statement “there is nothing wrong with sharing how I feel.”

89%

of participants answered yes to “I felt safe and not judged talking about my problems.”

I learned for the first time in my life that it is ok not to be ok and I can get help if I need it to deal with my emotions.

CENTER FOR AFRICAN AMERICAN HEALTH

Center for African American Health is partnering with the Therapist of Color Collaborative to provide clinical therapeutic supports to persons of color by therapists of color. They track referrals and dates of service, and use intake assessments to better understand those they serve.

95%

of individuals referred successfully completed treatment or were still engaged in treatment (typically 15-18 sessions).

84%

of participants had never received behavioral or mental health services prior.

SU TEATRO CULTURAL & PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

I think a lot of the folks that showed up, you would think they would have had lots of opportunities to share their stories, but they hadn't and they were really hungry for that opportunity.

- Su Teatro

of participants reported a more open attitude toward exploring mental health and a greater understanding that mental health challenges are universal.

Su Teatro uses theater productions and facilitated community dialogues to raise awareness about and provide support to people dealing with mental health challenges, substance misuse, and trauma. Su Teatro used participatory research methods with participants to assess stigma reduction as well as increased awareness and increased connectedness.

PROGRESS & IMPACT: SIGNALS OF PROGRESS

CHANGE NEEDED: CARE OVER TIME

NUMBER OF ORGANIZATIONS REPORTING FOR EACH SIGNAL

Addressing care over time will take time, and so will measuring these signals of progress.

This change area has limited data for the first year as these interventions often require more planning time and investments in changing systems.

PERCENTAGE OF PARTICIPANTS ASSESSED WHO MET THEIR ORGANIZATION'S CRITERIA OF PROGRESS (WITH EXAMPLE CRITERIA)

Stability over time for those engaged in services and supports

85%

Stable housing or employment during or after treatment; engaged in events for sobriety; Improved self-sufficiency scores

Increased options for crisis care and acute care needs

Increased availability for on-call crisis support; temporary supports provided for people on therapy waitlists

Increased retention through transitions

Engagement in treatment services after crisis care or criminal justice release; Use of sober housing after detox

Improved coordination across types & levels of care

Individuals served through co-located services; reduced wait times for receiving care; increased referral partner options

TRIBE RECOVERY HOMES

Tribe Recovery Homes provides substance misuse recovery support to individuals with criminal justice involvement through structured, supervised living spaces, peer coaching, clinical counseling, and employment support. For those testing positive for substance misuse, social detox and re-entry into recovery homes are offered without shame or belittling the relapse.

100%

of clients were able to receive mental health and substance misuse supports onsite through peer navigators and clinical therapists.

92%

of all client drug screens implemented were negative for drug use.

We know that relapse may be a part of someone's recovery. In a sense it is like learning to ride a bike. Sometimes you fall down.

-Tribe Recovery Homes

DENVER POLICE DEPARTMENT (DPD)

97%
of encounters did
not result in any criminal justice action (such as tickets or citations)

99%
of encounters did
not result in arrest

The DPD's Co-Responder program partners licensed mental health clinicians with police officers to respond to calls involving people who suffer from mental illness and/or co-occurring substance use issues. The teams collaborate to provide treatment in a format that best decreases current stressors and replaces them with long-term community-based supports.

This work is in partnership with the Support Team Assisted Response \(STAR\) program, which connects nonviolent 9-1-1 calls with a mobile unit that includes a mental health clinician and a paramedic. Based on our initial investment the program has been expanded Citywide, with Caring for Denver matching the City's investment of $1.4 million.

PROGRESS CONSIDERATIONS

- Sometimes even a small amount of measured progress can signal a large success, particularly for those in high-risk and highly complex situations. Grantees provide additional context for determining the true value of the reported changes on Foundation learning calls.
- Just because it wasn't measured, doesn't mean it isn't happening. Grantees are often addressing multiple signals and impacts, and we ask them to prioritize what they measure to reduce burden and allow them to focus on the work. We are working together to explore options for measuring more complex outcomes.

DATA CONSIDERATIONS

- Not all grantees measure progress by changes in unique individuals. For instance, some may report on the number of clean drug screens out of all drug screens completed (where an individual may be counted multiple times). However, these measures cannot be combined with the unique individual measures and thus are not included in the progress percentages provided.
- Grantees may choose to measure multiple signals of progress and impacts for the same group of participants. Thus, the same individuals may be represented across different measures.

GRANTS LIST

Our founding ordinance requires that the annual report include a grants list and a board list for each grantee. The board lists can be found in our online appendix.

Caring for Denver was created by City ordinance to fund the purposes listed below. These purposes are addressed through four community-identified, Board-approved funding priorities: Alternatives to Jail, Care Provision, Community-Centered Solutions, and Youth. The list on the following pages shows grantees by funding priority with their funding amounts, proposed outcomes, and ordinance objectives addressed (identified by the icons below).

Mental health services and treatment for children and adults

Opioid and substance misuse prevention, treatment, and recovery programs

Housing and case management services to reduce homelessness, improve long-term recovery, and reduce the costly use of jails and emergency rooms for those with mental health and substance misuse needs

Suicide prevention programs

Co-responder and alternative response program funding, and training on how to properly assess and handle people with mental health and/or substance misuse needs

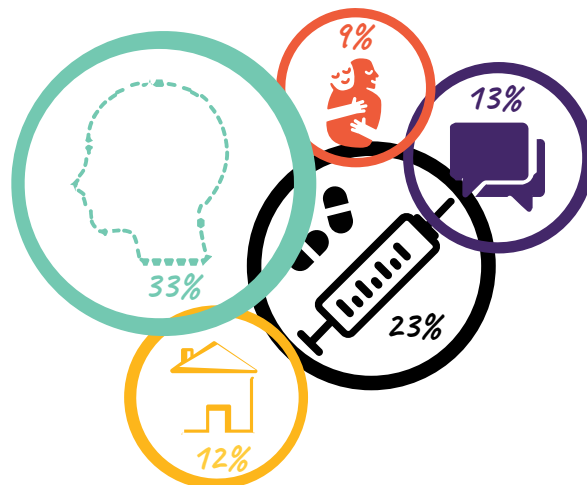

A majority of grants address multiple ordinance purposes.

100%

of funded projects address at least one purpose identified in the Foundation's ordinance

PERCENTAGE OF GRANT DOLLARS BY ORDINANCE PURPOSE

10% of the funds were retained by the City for facilities that create alternatives to jail for people with mental health and/or substance use disorder needs, per the ordinance.

ALTERNATIVES TO JAIL

City and County of Denver - Denver Police Department

$2,380,732 over 1 year to continue the existing co-responder program in place during the day and expand the program by adding a nightshift team of clinicians, a clinical supervisor, and a Denver Police Department case manager supervisor to provide 24/7 coverage to areas of highest need.

Proposed Outcomes:

- People with mental health and substance misuse issues are being successfully diverted away from the justice system

City and County of Denver - Department of Public Health & Environment

$1,395,000 over 1 year to increase the areas of coverage of the STAR Program by increasing the number of EMT/Behavioral Health Clinician Teams and to increase the effectiveness of the engagements with people in need by providing linkages to short-term assistance and long-term follow-up care.

Proposed Outcomes:

- People with mental health and substance misuse issues are being successfully diverted away from the justice system
- Those involved in or released from the criminal justice system are actively engaged with resources available to meet them where they are in recovery and live healthy lives in the community
- Improved mental health and/or reduced substance misuse by those placed-at-risk of engagement or engaged with the justice system
- Reduced recidivism of persons with mental health and substance misuse issues
- Reduced disparities in mental health and substance misuse outcomes for those served

City and County of Denver - District Attorney's Office

$708,621 over 3 years to provide culturally competent services that repair the harm caused by crime to victims and the community, increase social competency skills of offenders, and help to reduce the likelihood of further involvement in the court system.

Proposed Outcomes:

- People with mental health and substance misuse issues are being successfully diverted away from the justice system
- Improved mental health and/or reduced substance misuse by those placed-at-risk of engagement or engaged with the justice system
- Reduced recidivism of persons with mental health and substance misuse issues

GRANTS LIST

City and County of Denver - Office of the Municipal Public Defender

$799,231 over 3 years to encourage justice system diversion and recovery by providing wraparound services (including behavioral health navigation, comprehensive case management, and peer support) to hard-to-reach clients eligible for indigent defense.

Proposed Outcomes:

- Those involved in or released from the criminal justice system are actively engaged with resources available to meet them where they are in recovery and live healthy lives in the community
- Reduced recidivism of persons with mental health and substance misuse issues

CrossPurpose

$50,000 over 1 year to provide access to mental health services through a licensed mental health professional or sessions with a trained peer who will focus on socio-emotional health and well-being. All programming is through a trauma-informed lens.

Proposed Outcomes:

- Those involved in or released from the criminal justice system are actively engaged with resources available to meet them where they are in recovery and live healthy lives in the community
- Reduced recidivism of persons with mental health and substance misuse issues
- Reduced disparities in mental health and substance misuse outcomes for those served

The Empowerment Program

$261,360 over 2 years to hire peer support specialists at the newly opening Tooley Hall community corrections facility.

Proposed Outcomes:

- Those involved in or released from the criminal justice system are actively engaged with resources available to meet them where they are in recovery and live healthy lives in the community
- Improved mental health and/or reduced substance misuse by those placed-at-risk of engagement or engaged with the justice system
- Reduced recidivism of persons with mental health and substance misuse issues
- Reduced disparities in mental health and substance misuse outcomes for those served

GRANTS LIST

Heavy Hands Heavy Hearts Foundation (fiscal sponsor Star Girlz Empowerment Inc)

$149,258 over 1 year to help African American and Latino youth and adults develop skills and resilience to avoid, reduce, or stop high-risk behaviors by providing a variety of recreational therapeutic activities and ongoing support, teaching them healthier ways to fight through challenges.

Proposed Outcomes:

- Those involved in or released from the criminal justice system are actively engaged with resources available to meet them where they are in recovery and live healthy lives in the community
- Reduced disparities in mental health and substance misuse outcomes for those served

Mile High WorkShop

$157,740 over 3 years for trained, peer-led supports to help participants overcome barriers to employment due to substance misuse, mental health challenges, homelessness, and/or incarceration through hands-on job and life skills training.

Proposed Outcomes:

- Those involved in or released from the criminal justice system are actively engaged with resources available to meet them where they are in recovery and live healthy lives in the community
- Reduced recidivism of persons with mental health and substance misuse issues

Movement 5280

$33,000 over 2 years to incorporate peer specialists into services for unhoused persons who have aged out of foster care in order to increase their engagement with mental health and substance misuse services and court requirements, to increase their stability in the community and reduce recidivism.

Proposed Outcomes:

- Those involved in or released from the criminal justice system are actively engaged with resources available to meet them where they are in recovery and live healthy lives in the community
- Reduced recidivism of persons with mental health and substance misuse issues

ParadigmONE (fiscal sponsor Dream Center Denver)

$348,000 over 3 years for sober structured housing and a unique model of peer support to engage individuals involved in the justice system to divert them away from incarceration and achieve lasting recovery from substance misuse and mental health.
