Focus Area: Alternatives to Jail

We aim to fund a diversity of projects - from preventing people with substance misuse and mental health conditions from unnecessarily interacting with law enforcement or other aspects of the justice system, to addressing mental health and substance misuse needs in jail or prison systems, to providing culturally responsive services based in community that promote mental health and address substance misuse for those impacted by or leaving the criminal justice system.

Total Allocation

The total amount available for all grant awards in this funding area is $14.8 million. Applicants should consider the total amount available to organizations and agencies in the amount they request. Caring for Denver will evaluate budgets for their reasonableness and consider whether an organization has previously received a grant in allocation decisions.

Generally, we are not seeking to fund an organization in more than one funding area in a year. Additionally, Caring for Denver Foundation will accept one application per organization in an open Call for Proposals.

Equity

As we work to address mental health and substance misuse needs in Denver, we are committed to funding and supporting innovative efforts that move us towards equity and outcomes where race, ethnicity, disability, immigration status, and identity can no longer be used to predict life outcomes. Our ongoing efforts must elevate the voices of those impacted and repair historical trauma and oppression.

Priorities

We will prioritize funding for projects/ programs that address Denver's mental health and substance misuse challenges in at least one of the areas below:

- Inclusive Access – These projects help people access care in ways that make sense for them, in places that feel comfortable, and at times that fit their schedules so that they are better able to participate, learn, build skills, and address mental health and substance misuse issues.
- Attention to Fit – These projects ensure that when people seek care, they feel understood, connected, and respected by those providing that care, primarily through offering culturally designed and matched care options. These projects also support the mental health and substance use needs of those providing the supports so that they can be at their best as they support others.
- Care Over Time – These projects help people experience care options that are consistent, dependable, integrated, and flexible even as needs change over time to reduce burden on those receiving care and ensure the right level of care at the right times. These projects are particularly important during transition times, including moving into or out of the criminal justice system.

Shared Impact Goals

Applicants will need to explain how their work will support at least one of these and, if possible, how they intend to measure their progress toward impact:

- Reduced substance misuse (including maintained healthy relationship with substances) for those at risk of entering, involved with, and exiting the criminal justice system to reduce the likelihood of entering or re-entering the criminal justice system

- Improved or maintained positive mental health (including reduced harm to self and others) for those at risk of entering, involved with, and exiting the criminal justice system to reduce the likelihood of entering or re-entering the criminal justice system
- Increased equity in mental health and substance misuse outcomes for those at risk of entering, involved with, and exiting the criminal justice system to reduce the likelihood of entering or re-entering the criminal justice system
- Reduced entry or recidivism into the criminal justice system for those experiencing mental health and substance misuse challenges

Considerations

These considerations are based on additional feedback we've gathered through our learning activities specific to Alternatives to Jail funding. Grant decisions will favor programs/projects that:

- Focus on the strengths of participants
- Have demonstrated partnership and trust with impacted communities
- Have demonstrated partnership or are actively working to build relationships with systems
- Have demonstrated experience working with under-resourced people, including but not limited to people of color, youth and women, and those unhoused or likely to be unhoused
- Focus on supporting those with severe and persistent mental illness as they transition away from or out of jails or prisons
- Focus on supports for the families of those involved with or exiting the criminal justice system

Applicants are encouraged to review summaries of our current and past Alternatives to Jail grants on our Alternatives to Jail web page and read about learnings from our first Alternatives to Jail grantees in our 2021 Alternatives to Jail Learning Brief. More information about how we will partner with you to assess progress and learn together, is available via download on the Evaluation & Learning page on our website.

About Caring for Denver Foundation

Caring for Denver Foundation was founded and funded to address mental health and substance misuse challenges facing City and County of Denver residents.

Caring for Denver was created by City ordinance to fund the following purposes:

- Mental health services and treatment for children and adults
- Opioid and substance misuse prevention, treatment, and recovery programs
- Housing and case management services to reduce homelessness, improve long-term recovery, and reduce the costly use of jails and emergency rooms for those with mental health and substance misuse needs
- Suicide prevention programs
- Co-responder and alternative response program funding, and training on how to properly assess and handle people with mental health and/or substance misuse needs

These purposes are expressed through four community-identified, Board approved funding priorities: Alternatives to Jail, Care Provision, Community-Centered Solutions, and Youth. Calls for proposals for the other priority areas will be released at later dates on our website.
